

ISOC-Ar Argentina Chapter

Internet Society (ISOC) is a non-governmental, not-for-profit international organization, which serves as the nucleus for the most distinguished professionals in the area of Internet development and creation, as well as the users who wish to participate.

The Argentina Chapter of the Internet Society, in conformance with the policy on ISOC chapters, is constituted as a non-profit civil association in the city of Buenos Aires.

ISOC-Ar Argentina Chapter: Objectives

The goal of ISOC is to assure the open development, evolution and use of the Internet for the benefit of all people throughout the world.

Its main purpose is to maintain and extend the development and availability of Internet and its technologies and related applications. This is a purpose in and of itself, and it is also a means for allowing organizations, professionals, and individuals from across the globe the opportunity to collaborate, cooperate and innovate in their respective fields and interest, in a more effective manner.

The specific objectives include:

- Facilitate the open development of standards and protocols, as well as the administration and technical infrastructure for Internet.
- Support education, especially in developing countries, and elsewhere, where the need exists.
- Promote professional development and opportunities for being associated in Internet leadership.
- Supply reliable information on the Internet.
- Provide discussion forums on issues that affect the evolution of Internet, its development and use in the technical, commercial, and social aspects, among others.
- Cultivate a setting of cooperation and international community, and a culture that makes the self-governance of the Internet a reality.
- Serve as a focal point for the cooperative efforts that promote the Internet as a positive tool that benefits all people across the world.
- Provide administration and coordination for strategic initiatives and enterprises for the diffusion of humanitarian, educational, and social fields, among others.
